THINKING OUT LOUD

By H. M. L.

Slowly there dawns on Americans the view of the role they committed themselves to play in world affairs when the United Nations was organized in San Francisco. We didn't bite off more than we can chew, but we took a considerable bite, larger by far than anything in our history. It was not done so much blindly as it was done naively, without full realization of the conflict and its implications, that our delegation signed.

For one thing we imagined that, with the big five harnessed to the cart of world peace and all the other nations of the world pushing the vehicle, it would be rather a simple matter to fall into step and with a united effort, set off to the goal of universal peace, and perhaps, as we hopefully thought, everlasting peace. It comes as shock to find that the big five team wont pull together. One balks and sits back in the breeching, while another strains and tugs at the traces.

We find ourselves, for instance, between Russia and Great Britain. Those two countries are clashing over Middle East oil and Mediterranean control. We find ourselves between China and Russia, in the clash over what amounts to Russia's desire to control Manchuria. Thus far we have not been caught in a dispute between France and Russia, but that may happen when the matter of French possessions in Asia comes up for settlement. After all, it is probable that the Indo Chinese are as well able to govern themselves as the Filipinos are.

Thus we find ourselves in a kind of maelstrom of power politics, fending off blows not intended primarily for us, but nevertheless landing on us. From this distance it seems to us we're giving very poor exhibition of diplomatic acrobatics. Our Jimmy Byrnes has been very goor in compromising domestic and party matters, but we have no faith in these methods in international politics. We need a man on the job who is just as determined to put this nation forward and defend its interests as is Molotov for instance. Probably Molotov has a higher incentive than Byrnes. If Molotov fails he may lose his head. If Byrnes fails he will merely lose his job. But it takes time to prove a failure and in the meantime the prestige of this nation is taking a nose dive.

This is most apparent in our relations with Argentine. Publication of Spruille Braden's blue book just prior Argentine's national election, as it now appears, very definitely served to put Col. Peron firmly in the saddle there. "Choose between me and this Braden," he cried, "Choose to run your own affairs, or to hand them over the Colossus of the North." Argentine overwhelmingly chose Peron. That left us out on a limb. It will take some time and some doing to recover our leadership in the new world alliance. Peron can afford to be very arrogant and will undoubtedly cite our sad case to the rest of the South American republics with damaging effect.

We had, and still have a real cause of grievance against Argentine. It was, and is, that she harbored German spies who reported the movement of our shipping to German U-boats and caused the death of our merchant sailors and loss of valuable cargoes. We should have addressed ourselves singly to that issue and if no satisfactory atonement were made, sailed our fleet right into La Platte and forced a settlement. But our state department used words, a blue book full of them, and the result makes us all blush prodigiously for its blundering. Pussyfooting in world affairs can easily rob us of the prestige we gained in war.

As we see it, we are slowly being euchered out of our world war vantage ground. Russia demonstrates every day how much better an autocracy can deal with other nations than can a democracy. Spain seems to sense the same weakness that Argentine discovered. We shuffle instead of punch. In the long run the world knows we will fight, but just how much we will take before we fight is always a matter of experimentation.

One glimmer of light illumines the gloomy picture of our foreign policy or lack of it, and that is we seem to have a substantial backing of a majority of the nations represented in UN. If we make diligent use of this advantage, and carefully consider the issues we present, or are presented there for settlement, we may gradually create a world force of public opinion that will ultimately restore our position of leadership which our weak state department has jeopardized.

PERMITS ARE NOW REQUIRED TO BURN TRASH

During the period of April 15 through December 1 it is necessary to obtain a written permit from the state forester or his duly authorized agent prior to burning any brush, stumps, logs, fallen timber, fallows, slash or grass, brush or forest covered land or any other inflammable material, or blast with dynamite, powder or other explosives or set off fireworks of any kind in forest, fallows, grass or brush covered land, either on his own land or the property of another.

State Ranger William Sharp of the State Division of Forestry and Fire Control Officer Robert Dasmann of the Tahoe national forest issued a joint plea to the public—"to do their burning now while the grasses and weeds are still green, that later on as the fire hazard increases it will be necessary to impose rigid restrictive measures on burning permits and in some cases they cannot be issued until after the fall rains."

Burning within Nevada County on lands lying outside the national forest comes under the jurisdiction of State Ranger William Sharp in Nevada City. For burning permits within the Tahoe national forest the following district rangers should be contacted:

For western Nevada County, Warren Barnes at Nevada City. For eastern Nevada County, Hobart Snider, Truckee. For Placer County, Joseph Ely, Forest Hill and Max Williamson at Big Bend. For Yuba County, Norman Dole at Camptonville. For western Sierra County, Frank Delaney at Downieville. For eastern Sierra County, Pete Land at Sierraville.

An Enjoyable Party: The invitation hop given by Myers Preston at the Union Hotel last evening was a complete success. About sixty persons were present including several ladies and gentlemen from Grass Valley. A New Skate: Wm. Campbell of this city has invented a new skate, which from drawings and models, we should judge will supplant the celebrated Plimpton skate. He has arranger them for either two or four wheels with a simple gearing that will enable the "skatist" to regulate speed or control direction with the greatest ease.

Personal: Frank Guild formerly post master of this city, has been in town for the past few days. Mr. Guild keeps the Wadsworth House 225 Bush Street, San Francisco, where Nevada people who visit the bay will find a good place to "put up" at.

Delivering Prizes: The Cosmopolitan lottery folks have been kept busy since Monday. Between five and six thousand tickets have come through the Wells, Fargo & Co., calling for prizes besides, a rush by those who held tickets in the county. Many of couhse who expected to draw the $10,000 are disappointed at getting a ':neck tie" and they would have course who expected to draw the a blank. The lottery folks are not to blame for a man's bad luck.

NEWS COLUMN FOR VETERANS

The veterans administration is the government agency responsible for administering all federal laws granting assistance to ex-service men and women and their dependents.

These benefits include medical, hospital and domiciliary care; compensation, pension and retirement pay; vocational rehabilitation; education and training; guarantee of loans; readjustment allowances, insurance and others to which veterans or their dependents may be entitled by law.

A discharge other than dishonorable is a general eligibility requirement for any benefit. To qualify under the servicemen's readjustment act or GI bill of rights the veteran must have been in active service for at least 90 days part of which was after Sept. 16. However, he is eligible if he was discharged in less than that time by reason of a disability incurred in service.

An ex-serviceman or woman may receive medical treatment or hospitalization for any ailment resulting from his service by applying at a veterans administration hspital or out-patient office. If he is unable to pay for private care the VA will also treat him for a non-service connected disorder.

Veterans who have a service connected disability of ten per cent or more are eligible ordinarily for pensions. An unremarried widow of veteran is entitled to some pension by applying to the veterans administration.

If any ex-GI meets the general eligibility requirement wants to add to his educatin he is entitled to at least a year of schooling or apprentice training under the GI bill. He will be granted additional time equal to the period he spent in the service, up to a maximum of four years. For instance, a man who was in the army for two and a half years is eligible for three and a half years of school.

While in training the government will pay him a living allowance of $65 a month if single, $90 if married and stand the cost of tuition fees and books up to $500 per year. However he may take a short more and administered by the VA.

The VA under the GI bill will guarantee loans to veterans up to $4000 on real estate and $2000 on businesses not to exceed 50 per cent of the total amount of the loan.

Unemployed veterans are eligible for the readjustment allowance up to $20 a week. They may receive these payments for as long as 52 weeks depending upon length of service.

By reason of service in the armed forces the veteran also may retain his low cost term insurance or convert to a permanent policy. Both types are backed by the government and admoinistered by the VA.

ONE YEAR OF TRUMAN

By HERBERT BROWNELL Jr.

Mr. Truman succeeded to the presidency one year ago this month. A year is long enough to permit an accurate appraisal of his administration.

Also a year has been long enough to prove that the sooner the Missouri Gang is dislodged from the White House, the better it will be for the nation.

Appropriately Truman's first year ended with an explosion caused by his endeavor to apply machine politics in the selection of men for high governmental offices. His effort to pay off Edwin W. Pauley for services and money rendered to the Democratic Party was more in harmony with the ethics of the Pendergast machine in Kansas City than with the degree of public morality which the nation has a right to expect from its chief executive. Not even a Democratic senate could stomach this appointment.

But the Pauley incident was merely one phase of the trend which began as soon as the Missouri Gang took over last April. It will be remembered that one of its first acts was an attempt to buy votes in a special congressional election in Montana by promising to locate a veterans hospital in the second Montana distrist and then reneging on that promise after the Republican candidate was elected. That performance set the moral tone of the administration and the Pauley episode was therefore not surprising.

Meanwhile during Truman's first year in office the United States has lost that proud preeminence among the nations of the world it enjoyed one year ago. Our erstwhile allies distrust us and there is bitter resentment among the smaller nations to which we promised so much in the Atlantic Charter and to which so little has been delivered.

At home the program of reconversion to peace time industry which should have been in full operation many months ago is still stalled on dead center. We have had the greatest epidemic of labor disturbances in all history and others are in prospect.

It is not the president's ineptitude alone. It is not merely that he does not know what to do or how to do it. The high cost of living, the rising spectre of inflation, inadequate housing, the scarcity of goods, item by item—add your own—they all stem from the erroneous course which has been followed. Republicans in congress have protested in vain against what was being done to us in the name of the administration in power.

The truth is that the basic policy of the administration is unsound and unworkable. It never can work. The administration program cannot succeed for it runs counter to all American history and all American experience.

After everything is said and done, unfortunately for the country the only question has been, when would the collapse occur?

Unfortunately for the country nothing can be done about the present occupant of the White House until the presidential elections of 1948. But a start can be made in the right direction this year by electing a Republican congress which will restore sanity to at least one branch of the federal government.

The nation has had enough of little men rattling around in big jobs.

It pays them in time, energy and money, if time is worth money. They send the family wash to

Now... no wheat used in beer or ale

And wheat alone can solve the problem of feeding the world's hungry

Actually wheat has never been a large item in the brewing process—only $\frac{8}{10,000}$ of the entire U. S. wheat crop was used in 1945.

In accordance with United States Government policy, the brewing industry has used no wheat whatever since March 1, 1946.

OTHER MATERIALS CUT 30%

The other grains used have been reduced by 30%—that is, to 70% of the 1945 amount.

Wheat alone can solve the problem of feeding the hungry. The grains to which the industry is now restricted, are of a variety and grade not normally consumed by the people of the world as food.

LESS BEER AND ALE

Altogether, the brewing industry is using 30% less materials than in 1945. This results in a proportionately lower production. But since the current demand for beer and ale is about 25% greater than a year ago, the real shortage is nearer 50%.

Consequently, your dealer will not be able to supply you with all the beer and ale you would like. We know you will understand the reason for this.

Your attention is earnestly directed to the recommendations of President Truman's Famine Emergency Committee, which are summarized in the box below.

This statement tells in clear, simple terms what each of us individually can do to help during the emergency.

What the President's Famine Emergency Committee asks us all to do

1. Save and share wheat and fat products . . . Go light on all foods that take wheat, fats and oils—save breads, macaroni, cakes, cookies, pastries and deep-fried foods. Use drippings for pan-frying. Save salad oil—use boiled dressings.
2. Buy and serve more plentiful foods . . . Balance diets with the more plentiful foods, such as potatoes, fresh fruits and vegetables.
3. Waste NO food . . . Dress up today's leftovers for tomorrow. Make every crust count with melba toast, crumb-toppings, bread puddings and stuffings. Take no more than you can eat. Clean your plate. Turn in unusable fat salvage promptly.
